ACE HOTEL SYDNEY

SYDNEY

For the brand's first location on the Australian continent, Atelier Ace teamed up with national treasure (and AD100 firm) Flack Studio to transform a former factory into a quintessentially Down Under destination, with materials and colors that celebrate the region. From $290; acehotel.com

Bishop's Lodge

SANTE FE

Reimagined by Auberge Resorts Collection, this beloved landmark remains true to its roots, with contemporary Southwest-style interiors, adobe buildings, and intimate connections to the 317-acre grounds. From $750; aubergeresorts.com

Bulgari Hotel Paris

PARIS

The Italian jewelry house reunited with the architecture firm Antonio Citterio Patricia Viel on this Right Bank hot spot, whose spa, restaurant, bar, and suites—chief among them a penthouse duplex—all sparkle like gems. From $1,500; bulgari.com

Casa Cipriani

NEW YORK CITY

Adapted by Marvel architects, with interiors by AD100 legend Thierry Despont, a 1909 Beaux Arts ferry terminal now holds court at the southernmost tip of Manhattan, combining a private-club model with luxe rooms and suites. From $800; casacipriani.com

Cheval Blanc Paris

PARIS

Designed by AD100 master Peter Marino as a temple to French luxury and craft, this LVMH flagship is a tour de force of bespoke details, contemporary artworks, and crème de la crème materials. From $1,200; chevalblanc.com

Downtown L.A. Proper Hotel

LOS ANGELES

Nimbly layering tilework, murals, stained glass, and references from around the world, AD100 titan Kelly Wearstler has lent her Midas maximalist touch to a 1926 landmark by architects Curllett & Beelman, what was once a WCA. From $349; properhotel.com

Has there ever been a more exciting time to travel? Around the world, pent-up wanderlust and newfound pride of place have given way to the next wave of great hotels. We've scoped out the best.

ESMÉ

PASSALACQUA

Esmé

MIAMI BEACH

Outfitted by rising design star Jessica Schuster, this luxe oasis (and its sister property, Casa Matanza) spans eight Mediterranean Revival buildings on Española Way, a pedestrian plaza at the heart of South Beach. Originally built as an artists' colony in 1927, the property stays true to that spirit, with its kaleidoscopic palette of color, texture, and pattern. From $300; esmehotel.com

Etéreo

RIVIERA MAYA, MEXICO

A love letter to Mexico courtesy of Auberge Resorts Collection, this bliss-inducing resort (a collaboration between Migdal Arquitectos and Meyer Davis) brims with artisanal furnishings, local materials, and enough mezcal to slake any thirst. From $1,299; aubergeresorts.com

Gleneagles Townhouse

EDINBURGH

Tucked inside a heritage bank building on St. Andrew's Square, this urban counterpart to the historic country retreat cossets guests and members with classically appointed rooms, a breathtaking glass-paned dome, and period details galore. From $605; gleneagles.com

Habitas Bacalar

BACALAR, MEXICO

Impeccably furnished and responsibly built, this remote retreat defers to its extraordinary lagoon setting with simple A-frame cabanas that delight the senses while minimally impacting the fragile ecosystem. From $400; ourhabitas.com

Hotel Chelsea

NEW YORK CITY

The team that brought us The Bowery and The Jane have turned their expert attention to this storied 1884 landmark, a historic haven for artistic legends like Robert Mapplethorpe, Nico, and Dylan Thomas. Contemporary creatives will settle happily into the refined rooms and timeworn watering holes. From $300; hotelchelsea.com

Hotel Saint Vincent

NEW ORLEANS

In the Lower Garden District, an 1861 redbrick landmark (originally an infant asylum) now brims with marbled Voutsas wallpaper, 1970s chandeliers, and a pitch-perfect color palette thanks to Lambert McGuire Design. From $359; saintvincentnola.com

Inness

ACCORD, NEW YORK

Taavo Somer and Post Company looked to local Dutch Colonial architecture and New England traditions when designing the cabins and farmhouse at this pastoral escape, set on 225 acres with gardens by AD100 green thumb Miranda Brooks. From $285; inness.co

Kisawa Sanctuary

BENGUERRA ISLAND, MOZAMBIQUE

Masterminded by Nina Flohr, this far-flung island paradise incorporates 3D-printing technology and immediate materials to realize its jaw-dropping buildings. Interiors pay homage to African craft, mixing Senegalese and Ghanaian antiques and artworks with finds from Tanzania and Nigeria. From $5,277; kisawasanctuary.com

The Maybourne Riviera

ROQUEBRUNE-CAP-MARTIN, FRANCE

The veterans behind Claridge's have branched out to the Côte d'Azur, tapping a design dream team (Bryan O'Sullivan, André Fu, AD100 visionary Pierre Yovanovitch, and more) to realize this glistening Mediterranean fantasy. From $830; maybournriviera.com

Passalacqua

LAKE COMO, ITALY

An 18th-century villa has been reborn as a sister property to the iconic Grand Hotel Tremezzo, with terraced gardens, Murano-glass light fixtures by Barovier & Toso, Rubelli fabrics, and more than 20 types of Italian marble. From $1,055; passalacqua.it

THE TWENTY TWO

GLENEAGLES TOWNHOUSE

hotels

Pendry Manhattan West

NEW YORK CITY

The undulating glass façade of this Skidmore, Owings & Merrill tower gives way to tailored spaces by the AD100 firm Gachot, among them a soigné evening bar and glamorously understated guest suites. From $725; pendry.com

Piaule

CATSKILL, NEW YORK

Dotted with modernist cabins conceived in partnership with Garrison Architects, this 50-acre getaway has helped usher in a hospitality renaissance on the west side of the Hudson River, luring design lovers and wellness seekers alike. From $399; piaule.com

The Reykjavik Edition

REYKJAVÍK, ICELAND

The Ian Schrager Company teamed up with T.ark architects and AD100 hitmakers Roman and Williams on this shou sugi ban-treated edifice, whose showstopping interiors reveal floors of volcanic basalt, expanses of white oak, and bespoke furniture in the styles of Pierre Jeanneret and Jean-Michel Frank. From $430; editionhotels.com

The Rooster

ANTIPAROS, GREECE

Time slows down at this windswept Cycladic sanctuary, whose thoughtfully furnished masonry houses blend seamlessly with the land while affording sweeping views of the azure Aegean. From $740; theroosterantiparos.com

Rosewood Le Guanahani St. Barth

ST. BARTS

Transformed by the global hotel group, this storied stretch of sand dazzles anew, with updated accommodations, a top-notch dining program, and a divine spa. Island life never looked so good. From $1,130; rosewoodhotels.com

Rosewood São Paulo

SÃO PAULO

Designed by the mighty triumvirate of Jean Nouvel, Louis Benech, and Philippe Starck, this blockbuster project combines a new tower and a historic structure (formerly a maternity hospital) into one spectacular showcase for Brazilian culture. From $570; rosewoodhotels.com

Six Senses Fort Barwara

RAJASTHAN, INDIA

Dating back to the 14th century, this walled complex—complete with two original palaces and temples—has reemerged after more than a decade of conservation work. It now stands as a contemporary triumph of traditional Indian craft and wellness treatments. From $850; sixsenses.com

Terrestre

PUERTO ESCONDIDO, MEXICO

Solar powered and crafted of locally made brick, this seaside idyll was designed by Mexico City-based architect Alberto Kalach to be at one with the land, with open-air showers, stargazing platforms, saltwater pools, and indoor-outdoor suites. From $350; terrestrehotel.com

The Twenty Two

LONDON

Drawing on Napoleonic architecture and French decorative arts, designer Natalia Miyar whipped up seven distinct, joyfully maximalist moods for the rooms at this hotel and members club, set inside an Edwardian edifice overlooking Grosvenor Square. From $569; the22.london

Villa Igiea

PALERMO, ITALY

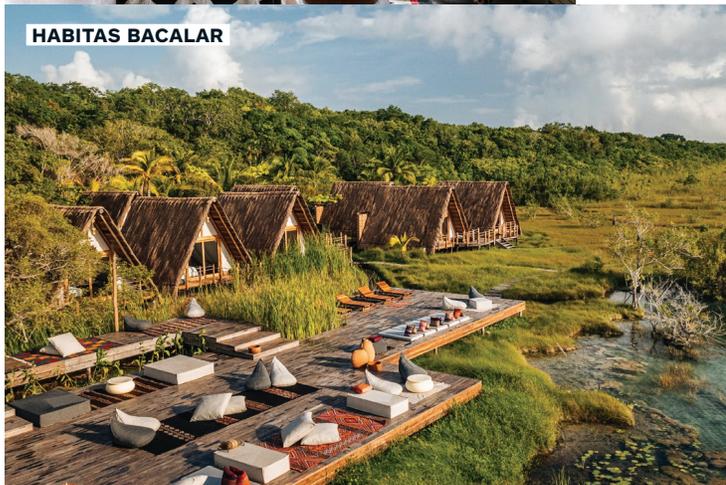

Revived by Rocco Forte Hotels design director Olga Polizzi with Paolo Moschino and Philip Vergeylen, this circa-1900 Art Nouveau palazzo is now a wall-to-wall ode to contemporary Sicilian glamour. From $645; roccofortehotels.com ▲
